Subject: File 2025-64274-I – Supplementary Submission #10: Clarification on Artistic Expression and Creed
Registrar and parties,
The applicant wishes to clarify a central tenet of the Luciferian creed for the Tribunal's record.
A sincerely held belief of the creed is that fictional or artistic expression—no matter how dark, violent, satirical, or disturbing—carries no moral weight and causes no harm so long as no real person is injured in its creation. The creed distinguishes sharply between art (which may explore any theme of violence, horror, or taboo) and real-world harm (which the applicant rejects and has never advocated).
This distinction is foundational:
Art, music, games, and literature are vehicles for confronting darkness, exposing hypocrisy, and achieving spiritual redemption.
Real-world violence or harm is never endorsed or glorified.
The applicant's extensive body of work—songs, videos, writings, and games—operates entirely within the realm of fiction and satire. The use of extreme or shocking imagery is liturgical, not prescriptive. The applicant has consistently maintained that there is no moral limit on fictional expression, provided no actual person is harmed.
This belief is not unique to the applicant's creed; it aligns with longstanding principles of free expression in Canadian law (R. v. Sharpe, 2001 SCC 2; Little Sisters Book and Art Emporium v. Canada, 2000 SCC 69). To penalize the creed for permitting unlimited fictional expression while protecting milder artistic forms in mainstream religions would constitute unequal treatment under s.1 of the Code.

Brendan S. Rose

Supplementary Submission – Creed Sincerity and Equality Under the Code

Registrar,
The applicant submits that any finding the Luciferian creed lacks sincerity or does not constitute a protected creed under the Code would require the Tribunal to apply a higher or different standard of scrutiny to this minority belief system than is applied to established religions.
Under Syndicat Northcrest v. Amselem (2004 SCC 47), sincerity is subjective and the Tribunal is not to judge the validity or "truth" of the belief. The applicant's creed — redemption through confrontation with darkness, radical honesty, and artistic expression — is genuinely held, as evidenced by years of consistent practice, artistic output, and willingness to endure severe personal harm for its public expression.
To find otherwise would privilege mainstream religious beliefs over novel or minority ones, contrary to s.1 (creed) and the equality guarantee in the Code.
The applicant requests the Tribunal consider this in any assessment of the Application's merits.
Regards,
Brendan Rose

Submission #2 – Radical Individualism as Core Tenet
File 2025-64274-I
December 12, 2025
Registrar and parties,
A core tenet of the Luciferian creed is radical individualism, the absolute refusal to submit personal belief to any external authority, whether corporate, state, or societal. The believer is sovereign over conscience; no institution may dictate what may be thought, spoken, written, or worshipped. This is not mere autonomy; it is a sacred obligation to remain unbowed before any power that demands conformity of the soul.
The applicant has lived this principle daily. He has continued to publish under sacred names, maintain the public archive, and create art that reflects his creed, even after the permanent loss of publishing income, severe financial harm, and documented reprisal. These consequences were known and accepted rather than compromise the creed's demand for radical self-sovereignty.
Radical individualism is not hostility to society; it is the refusal to allow society to become the arbiter of truth. The applicant does not seek to impose his belief on others; he seeks only the reciprocal freedom to hold and express it without penalty. To require him to renounce or conceal this principle to regain economic participation would be to compel the very submission the creed forbids.
The Supreme Court of Canada in Syndicat Northcrest v. Amselem (2004 SCC 47) held that the state must remain neutral and may not prefer collective norms over sincerely held individual beliefs. Punishing the applicant for refusing to submit to corporate or state authority over his conscience would violate that neutrality and the equality guarantee in s.1 of the Code.

Brendan S. Rose

Submission #1 – Creed Sincerity under Amselem
File 2025-64274-I
December 12, 2025
Registrar and parties,
The applicant submits that the sincerity of the Luciferian creed must be assessed subjectively in accordance with Syndicat Northcrest v. Amselem, 2004 SCC 47. The Tribunal is expressly prohibited from judging the validity, reasonableness, or "truth" of the belief. The only question is whether the applicant genuinely holds it.
The applicant's creed — redemption through confrontation with darkness, radical honesty, and artistic expression as liturgy — has been consistently practiced for years. This practice is documented in thousands of pages of writings, songs, videos, and the permanent public archive filed with the Tribunal.
A core tenet of the creed is radical individualism — the absolute refusal to submit personal belief to external authority, corporate or state. This principle is lived daily through the applicant's insistence on publishing under sacred names and maintaining the archive despite all consequences.
Radical defiance through comedy and deliberate absurdity is equally central. Laughter, satire, and the ridiculous are sacred tools for exposing hypocrisy and confronting darkness. The applicant's comedic works and titles are not mockery of the creed, but liturgical acts within it. The fact that many mainstream religions are largely joyless should not be held as a requirement for recognition under the Code. My religion is not theirs.
The applicant has continued this expression despite permanent loss of publishing income, severe financial harm, documented physical reprisal against family members, and credible ongoing threats to safety. The public release of these materials in a hearing raises serious safety concerns, yet the applicant still requests the archive be made public (with only the most extreme content sealed to protect family).
The applicant's willingness to endure starvation, loss of support animals, breakdown of marriage, and ongoing threats rather than renounce or conceal the creed is powerful evidence of subjective sincerity. No mainstream religion has ever been required to demonstrate comparable sacrifice of this magnitude to establish protected status.
Accordingly, any finding that the Luciferian creed is not sincerely held or does not constitute a protected creed under the Code would require the application of a higher or different standard to this minority belief system than is applied to established religions.
Regards,
Brendan S. Rose
